25X1A ^{1.}	French Foreign Off	ce official urges concentration on main NATO objectives:
		The US Embassy in Paris reports the opinions of a pro-US Foreign Office official regarding the position of the NATO nations following are expected to have	Malik's peace proposal. These views, which are expected to have an important influence on the foreign policy of the next French Government, are: (a) "the Malik proposal and the Soviet willingness to have hostilities cease in Korea (at least for the present) are solid and satisfying evidence of the correctness of the policies pursued by the West"; (b) since the USSR's new "peace aggression" aims to arrest and even reverse the trend toward an East-West military balance, an urgent need exists both to strengthen support for the major task of rearmament and to avoid introducing into NATO deliberations the kind of questions that would "diminish or diffuse such support"; and (c) the "major indispensable task" facing NATO at present, aside from achieving the rearmament goals of the various members, is to insure West Germany's contribution on mutually acceptable terms.

The French official believes that two problems recently introduced into NATO discussions -- membership for Greece, Turkey and Spain, and revision of the Italian treaty -- could prejudice rather than contribute to the strengthening of the West's position.

Foreign Office officials' use of every opportunity for exerting pressure on the US to simplify NATO's immediate objectives. These officials will continue to show their irritation at US proposals of new NATO aims, which they often consider are due to over-eagerness and high-handedness on the part of the US. Although there have been no indications of any tendency in the French Foreign Office to relax the rearmament effort because of the Soviet proposal, the task of French Government leaders who are determined to press on with rearmament would be rendered much more difficult if a Korean armistice should be arranged.

25X1A	5.	German o	11	technicians	ready	to	go	to	Iran:

As a result of newspaper advertizing in Hamburg, applications by Germans interested in employment in the Iranian oil industry have reportedly been coming in at the rate of twenty per day. The German Federal Government has formally discouraged Germans from accepting such appointments, and the UK High Commissioner has been instructed by his government "to take all possible steps in consultation with his colleagues and with German authorities to prevent German technicians from going to Iran." The US and French High Commissioners have supported the British efforts to discourage Germans from leaving for Iran, but are aware that their efforts will not be entirely effective.
